 - (c) paid the tuition fees prescribed as and when required; and
 - (d) complied with such other Ordinances and Regulations as may be relevant.
- 14.4 Possession of the appropriate qualifications for entry upon any course of study shall not entitle any person to admission to the University or to any particular course of study, and the University reserves the right to accept or reject any applicant.
- 14.5 Subject to the provisions of the Charter and Statutes, the Senate may permit students who have attended courses of study or passed examinations at other Universities or places of learning to count these courses of study and examinations as equivalent to such courses of study and examinations in this University as the Senate shall determine, provided that no Degree, Diploma or Certificate of the University shall be awarded to any person unless:
- (a) They have satisfied the examiners in accordance with the relevant regulations;
 - (b) They have pursued an approved course of study or research in the University or an approved institution extending over at least one academic session on a full-time basis or at least two academic sessions on a part-time basis or with the special permission of the Senate pursued a course of study or research, and completed a period of attachment, approved by the Senate on the advice of the Board of Studies concerned.
 - (c) They have certified in writing if required to do so by the University that they have not made a contract (whether written or verbal) or given an assurance to a third party in a form which is in any way at variance with the conditions of enrolment and (where applicable) with conditions of study contained in the letter of admission to the University.

- 14.8 If a candidate is prevented by illness or other sufficient cause from presenting for or completing a final examination for a Degree, Diploma or Certificate, the Senate may, upon the recommendation of the Board of Studies concerned and upon such other conditions as it shall think fit, award a Degree (with or without Honours), Diploma or Certificate provided that the candidate shall not be placed in a class or division.

This clause shall not exempt a candidate from presenting a thesis where such is prescribed.

Application for consideration for the grant of an Aegrotat Degree, Diploma or Certificate must be made by the candidate, or the candidate's Tutor acting on the candidate's behalf, in writing to the Director of Academic Registry not later than one week after the end of the written examination.

Applicants for an Aegrotat Degree, Diploma or Certificate will be required to submit a medical report, obtained at their own expense.

This type of award should be recommended when it is the collective view of the Board of Examiners that the candidate so endowed possesses the same level of knowledge, skills and understanding as would have been demonstrated if the candidate had completed final examinations. It is therefore implicit that the candidate would have normally completed a substantial proportion of the final year of study.

- 14.9 If a candidate dies before presenting for or completing a final examination for a Degree, Diploma or Certificate, the Senate may, upon the recommendation of the Board of Studies concerned and upon such other conditions as it shall think fit, award a Degree (with or without Honours), Diploma or Certificate provided that the candidate shall not be placed in a class or division.

Application for consideration for the posthumous grant of an Aegrotat Degree, Diploma or Certificate must be made by the candidate's Tutor, with the permission of the candidate's family or next of kin, in writing to the Director of Academic Registry.

This type of award should be recommended when it is the collective view of the Board of Examiners that the candidate so endowed possessed the same level of knowledge, skills and understanding as would have been demonstrated if the candidate had completed final examinations. It is therefore implicit that the candidate would have normally completed a substantial proportion of the final year of study.

- 14.10 Graduates shall be presented at a Congregation of the University to be held for that purpose at such time and place as may be determined provided that a Congregation shall be held at least once a year and shall be presided over by the Chancellor or, in the Chancellor's absence, by the Vice-Chancellor or, in the absence of both, as set out in Section 7.3 of the Statutes.

- 14.13 No honorary degree shall be conferred in absentia except in posthumous circumstances or by resolution of the Senate.

17.3 To avoid doubt it is an express provision of any Letter of Appointment or other contract of employment that 17.15 Family Leave (including Maternity Leave, Paternity Leave and Compassionate Leave) will be granted in accordance with the University Family Leave Arrangements.

17.16 The Council may grant sabbatical leave to any University Officer or member of Academic Staff.

A member of Academic Staff proposing to take such leave must discuss this initially with their Head of Department (or, in the case of a Head of Department, with their Dean of Faculty) and the Director of Human Resources must be consulted on the financial implications, including superannuation arrangements.

A member of Academic Staff will be entitled to one year's sabbatical leave at half-pay after seven years' continuous service, provided that the timing of such leave is approved by the Head of Department or School (or, in the case of a Head of Department, by the Dean of Faculty), together with the venue and programme. The venue should normally be another University or a research institution, and the programme one that is likely to enhance teaching and/or research capability.

Applications for leave on different terms may be considered by the Vice-Chancellor at the request of the Head of Department or School.

Entitlement to sabbatical leave may not be aggregated into two consecutive periods of leave or into one period of leave at full-pay. A member of staff who expects shortly to leave the University's employment will not normally be granted sabbatical leave.

17.17 A Head of Department or a Head of School may grant leave to members of Academic Staff in that Department/School to enable them to attend conferences, courses or similar meetings connected with their work. Leave will normally be granted without reduction in salary and allowances, for periods of up to two weeks in the semesters and up to one month in vacations, in any one academic year. 17.18 A Head of Department or Head of School may grant leave for Exchange Visits for periods not normally exceeding twelve months between members of staff and members of the staff of other institutions at home or abroad for the purpose of teaching or research. Any member of staff wishing to participate in such an exchange programme shall submit an application in writing to their Head of Department or Head of School. Leave for an exchange visit will normally be granted subject to the conditions that no salary or other allowances will be payable by the University to the member of staff during the period of such visits.

17.19 The Council may grant special leave to any member of staff for such purposes and for such periods and subject to such conditions as to salary and allowances as the Council may determine.

Subject to report to Council, the Vice-Chancellor may grant to any member of staff a period of secondment or unpaid leave of absence for professional reasons provided that this period does not exceed two years. Council may be asked to authorise an extension to the period of secondment or unpaid leave of absence; any such extension shall not normally exceed one year. The time limits specified above may be extended in cases where the secondment or unpaid leave of absence is taken on a part-time basis.

17.20 Subject to the rules of the nominated Superannuation Scheme for the time being in force, the University will continue to pay its own superannuation contributions in respect of a member of staff during the whole period of any leave granted; but where it appears to the Council that a member of staff may gain substantial benefits from other sources during any period of leave the Council may at its discretion grant such leave subject to the condition that the contribution of the University in respect of the member of staff during any period of leave be reduced or refunded, wholly or in part, by the member of staff to the University. Subject as aforesaid, and at the discretion of the Council, the whole or part of the superannuation contributions of the member of staff may be paid by the University in addition to its own contributions during any period of leave granted.

18. EXTERNAL WORK

The University recognises that consulting or other work undertaken by a member of staff for a body other than the University may be beneficial to the community as a whole, and to the standing of the University, and to members of staff in their teaching and research activities.

Accordingly, members of staff are encouraged to undertake such work subject to the conditions hereinafter set out. Members of staff are required:

- (a) not without the permission of the Head of Department or a Head of School of (or in the case of a Professor, the Vice-Chancellor) to undertake or continue any work for any person or body other than the University which might impede the proper performance of their teaching duties and research work, or their participation in the life and administration of the University, or which might be incompatible with their appointment at the University, or which would limit their academic independence or restrict the dissemination of knowledge;
- (b) to furnish to the Head of Department or a Head of School (or, in the case of a Professor, the Vice-Chancellor) full particulars of any standing, regular or frequently occurring commitment to do work for any person or body other than the University;

- 19.5 The quorum for any meeting of the Disciplinary Tribunal must be all the persons mentioned in Statute 25 Section 16 of the Statutes of the University.

Start of the Hearing

- 19.7 After receipt of the papers to which reference is made in Statute 25 Section 15(4)(a) of the Statutes of the University the Disciplinary Tribunal shall meet and shall consider how the charges may be best investigated and dealt with at the hearing. A copy of all statements and details provided to the Disciplinary Tribunal by the officer in charge of the proceedings shall be copied and sent to the member of the academic staff who is the subject of the charges at least fourteen complete days before any oral hearing starts together with copies of all other, written, photographic or other evidence which can be copied and which the Disciplinary Tribunal proposes to consider at such hearing and a list of the witnesses whom the Disciplinary Tribunal wishes to give oral evidence.

- 19.9 The Disciplinary Tribunal at any oral hearing held in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 19.8, shall allow the member of the academic staff (or a friend) and the officer in charge of the proceedings in the presence of each other to ask questions of witnesses and to speak on the charges and on the evidence in any general or particular way save if the Disciplinary Tribunal at its absolute discretion considers that any matter raised is irrelevant to the charges being considered by the Disciplinary Tribunal on the charges or on the evidence.

- 19.10 The member of the academic staff will have the right to be assisted by a friend and the member of the academic staff or the friend will have the right to speak before the Disciplinary Tribunal during the oral hearing and, in the event of any finding against the member of the academic staff, in mitigation after the finding has been announced.

- 19.14 The Disciplinary Tribunal may at its own absolute discretion adjourn matters related to its enquiry and may proceed in the absence of the member of the academic staff who fails to attend a meeting of the Disciplinary Tribunal having received proper notice of the date, time and place of the meeting unless the member of the academic staff has made a prior written request for a postponement of the oral hearing for reasons which shall have been stated in the request and which are considered satisfactory by the Disciplinary Tribunal.
- 19.15 The Disciplinary Tribunal may dismiss any charge or charges at its absolute discretion on application by or on behalf of the member of the academic staff if the officer in charge of the proceedings has not dealt with the charge or charges in a way which the Disciplinary Tribunal considers to be reasonable.
- 19.16 The Disciplinary Tribunal may at its absolute discretion at any time prior to the conclusion of the oral hearing remit the charge or charges to the Vice-Chancellor for further consideration or for the correction of errors.

Conclusion of the Hearing

- 19.17 At the conclusion of its enquiry the Disciplinary Tribunal (with the assistance of its adviser(s) if appointed) shall consider in private what it has read, heard and seen in relation to the charges and to the evidence and shall produce in writing a report ('the Disciplinary Report') containing:
- (i) an index of the written papers and other evidence received by the Disciplinary Tribunal in relation to the allegations and a list of the names of those persons who gave oral evidence to the Disciplinary Tribunal;

 - (v) a penalty for confirmation by the appropriate officer in respect of the charges found to have been proved.

19.18 The Disciplinary Tribunal shall serve a copy of the Disciplinary Report on the member of the academic staff, the officer in charge of the proceedings and on the Vice-Chancellor.

Penalties

19.19 If the Disciplinary Tribunal find the charge or charges to have been proved against a member of the academic staff it shall have power to give an absolute remission or to deal with matters in accordance with Statute 25 Section 19 of the Statutes of the University.

If the Tribunal finds no charges proved against the member of the academic staff or awards an absolute remission no record of the hearing is to be kept in any file or record relating to the member of academic staff.

Evidence

19.20 The Disciplinary Tribunal shall cause a substantial note to be taken in writing of (or alternatively a complete tape recording from which a transcript can be produced):

- (a) all evidence and arguments presented to it by the member of the academic staff and any witnesses not previously in written form; and
- (b) all procedural or other interim decisions.

Arrangements for the note shall be made in accordance with Statute 9 Section 2.

Notices

19.21 Where any notice required by these Ordinances to be sent to a member of the academic staff is sent by registered or first class recorded delivery post to the address of the member of the academic staff as registered with the Director of Human Resources, it may be presumed to have been received by the member of the academic staff two days after being sent, unless there is evidence that, through no intent on the member of the academic staff's part, the notice was not in fact received within the two days.

- 20.10 The Committee at its discretion shall consider and unless improper allow applications by the member of the academic staff for the postponement of and adjournment of any oral hearing of an appeal.
- 20.11 The Committee may after application or at its absolute discretion dismiss an appeal for want of prosecution.
- 20.12 The Committee shall have the power to correct any accidental error relevant to the appeal and to set appropriate time limits for each step of the appeal and the consequences of not complying with any time limits to the intent that any appeal shall proceed to an oral hearing as expeditiously as reasonably practicable.
- 20.13 The Committee after making its reasoned decision after an oral hearing of the appeal shall act in accordance with Statute 25 Section 29(3) of the Statutes of the University.

21. GRIEVANCE DETERMINATIONS ORDINANCE

21.1 Principles

Any procedure for dealing with a grievance under Section 17.20 of the Statutes shall be bound by the following provisos: namely that no matter may be raised under the provisions of Section 17.20 of the Statutes as a grievance

- (i) which can be properly dealt with under Section 27 of the Statutes, or
- (ii) which relates to a decision of Senate made pursuant to Section 19 of the Statutes:
 - (a) on the admission or progress of, or grant of a degree, diploma or certificate to, a student, based on an academic assessment or examination of the student's attainment, or
 - (b) on the appointment, re-appointment, progression or promotion of a member of staff, based on a judgement of academic attainment, or
 - (c) on consideration of and adjudication upon academic appeals by students relating to progression from one part of the programme of studies to the next; or the outcome of examinations or formal course assessments; or dissatisfaction of a student with the level of attainment where there exists new and relevant information concerning matters which might have affected that student's

- performance.
- (iii) which involves the dismissal of a member of staff not subject to the provisions of Section 25 of the Statutes or which involves disciplinary action taken against such a member of staff provided that in every case the University has taken each step required under any relevant procedural document in force from time to time.

21.2 Grievance procedure

Under the terms of Section 17.21 of the Statutes, the Academic and other Staff of the University, and the Graduates and Students of the University, may ask the Council to redress a grievance. The University's Staff Grievance Policy and Procedure approved by Council on 29th November 2007 (minute 5340 (1)) sets out the procedure for grievances raised by employees of the University. The procedure for grievances raised by Graduates and Students of the University was agreed by Council on 3rd July 2008 (minute 5436).

21.3 Grievances raised under Section 25 Part VI of the Statutes of the University

'Statute 25 Part VI' shall mean Statute 25 Part VI of the Statutes of the University.

The 'Grievance Committee' means the Grievance Committee constituted under Section 25 Part VI Paragraphs 31 to 37 inclusive.

The 'Chair' means the Chair of the Grievance Committee.

The 'hearing' shall mean any occasion on which the Grievance Committee sits in accordance with Statute 25 Part VI to hear evidence or to listen to representations.

- (a) This procedure will be carried out in confidence (unless otherwise agreed by the parties involved) and will not prejudice the current employment or future career prospects of the person raising a grievance in good faith. All grievance records (including those of formal grievance and appeal hearings) will be held in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.
- (b) The Grievance Committee shall normally be chaired by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor or a Pro-Vice-Chancellor.
- (c) The Chair shall have an absolute discretion to clarify or modify the procedure for the hearing (after consulting with the other members of the Grievance Committee) provided that such clarification or modification is in the interests of the person bringing the grievance and not contrary to Statute 25 Part VI Paragraph 36 or this Ordinance.
- (d) Any party to the grievance has the right to be accompanied by a friend, colleague or trade union representative.

- (e) As soon as reasonably practicable and not less than 15 working days before the hearing, the Secretary will confirm the arrangements for the hearing to all parties in writing.
- (f) At least 10 working days before the hearing, the parties will send to the Secretary the names of any witnesses and the documentary evidence they wish to have considered at the hearing.
- (g) The Secretary will ensure that each party to the grievance receives the names of any witnesses and the documentary evidence not less than 7 working days before the hearing.
- (h) The hearing of the grievance will take place in the presence of all parties to the grievance.
- (i) The person bringing the grievance and/or his/her companion, first presents his/her case to the Committee and has the opportunity to call witnesses and refer to the documentary evidence. - (l) The party against whom the grievance has been made, or his/her companion, will make a final submission to the Committee.
- (m) The person bringing the grievance, or his/her companion, will make a final submission to the Committee.
- (n) The Chairman will close the hearing by stating that the Committee will report to Council in accordance with the provisions of Statute 25 Part VI Section 37.
- (o) The Committee will consider its decision after all the other parties have withdrawn.
- (p) The decision of the Committee (including any proposals for redress of the grievance) will be conveyed orally to the parties to the grievance by the Chair of the Committee as soon as possible. The decision will then be confirmed in writing to all parties within 5 working days of the hearing. The person bringing the grievance will be informed of their right of appeal against the decision.

- (q) If the employee is dissatisfied with the outcome of the Grievance Committee, he/she has the right to appeal to the Vice-Chancellor. The employee must set out clearly his/her grounds for appeal in writing within 10 working days of receipt of notification of the outcome of the Grievance Committee. The Vice-Chancellor, assisted by the Director of Human Resources, will meet with the employee to hear and determine the appeal. The employee has the right to be accompanied by a friend, colleague or trade union representative.

22. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

22.1 Statement of Principles

The principles underlying this Ordinance include, except where otherwise agreed, the following undertakings made by the University and the obligations placed on its staff and students.

The University undertakes to:

- ensure fair treatment for all parties
- use all reasonable endeavours to exploit and protect intellectual property generated by its staff and students, and in which the University has an interest, subject to adequate resources
- provide a supportive environment
- maintain fairness and adequate incentives in the distribution of residual income
- consider proposals from individual staff with respect to exploitation and protection of intellectual property

The University's staff and all students who are subject to clause 22.3(b) of this Ordinance are required to;

- report any work undertaken on behalf of an external body/any other commercial interest, as specified in Ordinance 18
- report any potentially exploitable results and/or other intellectual property unless otherwise agreed with the University
- keep key information confidential until it is protected or released into the public domain with the approval of the principal investigator or supervisor (unless first released by a third party through no fault of the University)
- report any potential conflict of interest (Financial Regulation G7)

22.2 Definition of Intellectual Property

This Ordinance applies to the widest possible concept of Intellectual Property (IP) and that current at the relevant time. IP has been defined simply as the creations or fruit of the human mind. An internationally accepted definition is as follows:

‘the rights relating to: literary, artistic and scientific works; the performance of performing artists, phonograms and broadcasts; inventions in all fields of human endeavour; scientific discoveries; industrial designs; trademarks; service marks and commercial names and designations; and all other rights resulting from intellectual activity in the industrial, scientific, literary and artistic fields.’

(World Intellectual Property Organisation (WIPO) 1967).

This Ordinance applies to all types of new IP (such as, without limitation, copyright in software and database rights) as well as to the traditional forms and to all media.

The five main types of IP protected either by registration or otherwise are: Patents, Copyright, Design Rights, Trademarks and Confidential Information and Know-how.

22.3 Ownership of Intellectual Property

- a) The University claims ownership of all IP arising from work undertaken by staff, whether academic or non-academic, in the course of their employment by the University, or which relates to their area of academic activity, or which is specifically assigned to them, in their contract of employment or otherwise, or developed under a contract between themselves and the University or between the University and a third party(ies), subject to the exceptions listed in Ordinance 22.3 (e)
- b) In respect of all IP generated by students in the following categories (including, for the avoidance of doubt, in the case of (i) and (ii) studentships funded or partially funded by the UK Research Councils):
 - i. which arises under a sponsored studentship agreement and/or
 - ii. which arises where the student is sponsored and financially supported in his/her studies by the University or a third party under a student sponsorship arrangement. This includes the University’s own scholarship scheme, any waiver of fees by the University or any other scheme of sponsorship whereby the University or any third party makes a financial contribution in respect of a student’s fees and/ or living expenses; and/or
 - iii. which arises under a sponsored research programme whereby the University is in receipt of funds and/or any other contribution from a third party in respect of the conduct by it of certain research and/or
 - iv. which arises in connection with the placement of a student in arrangements undertaken by the University with an individual partner, business or other person and/or

- v. which arises under any other arrangements undertaken between the University and any other party whereby that party makes available to any student of the University work experience opportunities and/or facilities and/or equipment and/or funding and/or background IP under arrangements with the University and/or
- vi. which builds on existing IP generated by a member of staff or is jointly invented or generated with a member of staff

subject to the exceptions listed in Ordinance 22.3 (e), the University claims ownership of all such generated IP and students may be required to confirm the University's ownership by way of a confirmatory assignment of the IP to the University.

- c) In respect of any IP generated by students in other circumstances (and subject to 22.3 (d) below) the University will not make a claim to ownership of IP, though where the IP was generated by a student in the course of his/her studies or using University facilities (other than the computer network) the University shall have the irrevocable perpetual royalty free right to use such student generated IP for further research.
- d) Where a University employee is concurrently registered as a student, the employee status takes precedence for the purposes of this Ordinance.
- e) In accordance with normal academic practice, and subject to 22.3(f) below and unless agreed otherwise, the University does not claim copyright in scholarly output per se produced by staff or students in the course of their employment or research work or in the course of studies at the University. Scholarly output includes the following:
 - i. personal lecture notes
 - ii. books, articles, academic publications
 - iii. seminar papers
 - iv. theses, essays
 - v. course materials produced for issue to internal students
 - vi. examination papers, questions, assignments, model examination responses
 - vii. examination responses by those examined in any form, including essays, scripts, designs, computer software, tape recordings.

In the case of (iv) - (vii) the University shall retain ownership (as distinct from copyright) of the materials and in the case of (v) – (vi) shall retain the right at any time to use, reproduce and adapt such materials freely for legitimate purposes.

For the avoidance of doubt, whilst the University does not claim copyright in the categories of scholarly output described at (i) – (vii) above and agrees to enter into a confirmatory assignment of such copyright to the author(s), such agreement is entirely without prejudice to the University's rights to and ownership of all other IP subsisting in connection with such scholarly output (for example but without limitation any inventions described in an academic publication).

- f) The exceptions described in Ordinance 22.3 (e) do not apply to course materials or e-learning materials (including examination papers and assessment tools) produced for distance-learning or virtual learning courses whether prepared for third parties or for students of the University in cases where the author has been specifically assigned duties in order to produce the output. In these circumstances the University shall wholly own all IP in such materials and must be in a position freely to use the material for any purpose whatsoever (including the right to license).
- g) Where background IP underpins the course materials and research underpinning the course materials has also contributed to the production of scholarly output, as described in Ordinance 22.3 (e), the author should discuss the copyright position with the University to ensure there is no conflict of interest.
- h) If members of staff write course materials and/or distance and/or e-learning materials which do not relate to their area of academic activity, or are not produced in the course of their employment by the University, or relate to courses which are not delivered in the University's name, they should discuss the copyright position with the University at an early stage.

22.4 Recording of Lectures

Lectures, seminars, workshops and other presentations delivered by staff are a category of scholarly output to which special provisions apply:

- a) A staff member shall not subject to (h) below agree to the making of a recording by any person other than the University;
- b) Students and others attending the lecture, seminar, workshop or other presentation shall not be permitted to make recordings (subject to (h) below).
- c) Where a lecture, seminar, workshop or other presentation is recorded pursuant to 22.4(a) above, two separate works are protected under the law of copyright: the University (or other person making the recording pursuant to 22.4(h) owns copyright in the digitised recording and the lecturer or presenter owns any copyright that may subsist in the spoken words once fixed by the recording as a category of scholarly output (being course materials which the University retains the right to use, pursuant to 22.3(e) above).
- d) Where a lecture, seminar, workshop or other presentation is recorded (in addition to compliance generally with 22.5 of this ordinance) the lecturer or presenter shall follow all reasonable directions of the University in relation to the use of any third party copyright materials.

- e) In accordance with 22.3(e) the University has the right to make the recording available to any registered students of the University who are following the same or a related course of study or module or segment until the end of the second academic year after the recording takes place. The recording must not be redistributed or copied further by the student recipients.
- f) The University acknowledges that all performers' rights in any lectures or other presentations are owned by the staff member delivering the lecture or presentation. Where a member of staff has allowed the recording of a lecture each staff member authorises the University to record his/her lecture or presentation and to issue copies of the recording to students of the University who are following a relevant course of study.
- g) The owners of copyright in works of scholarly output assert and the University acknowledges the moral rights of its staff members and students in all works of scholarly output and in the performers' rights described at 22.4 (f).
- h) The University has a statutory obligation to make reasonable adjustments in respect of providing equal treatment and equal access to educational opportunity for all students regardless of their disability status. Each staff member acknowledges the right of the University to permit students who have a disability as defined in the Equality Act 2010 to record lectures and other presentations for this purpose and authorises such recordings. In such circumstances the lecturer or presenter will be informed that the lecture or presentation is being recorded, the student may use the recording only for the purpose of personal study and (for the avoidance of doubt) copyright in the content of the lecture or presentation shall be the property of the lecturer or presenter delivering it.
- i) The University will retain any recording made in accordance with 22.4(a) above for up to two academic years following the year in which the recording was made and reserves the right to make the recording available to registered students undertaking the same or a related course of study or module or segment during that period.

22.5 Third Party Intellectual Property

- a) Where Intellectual Property has been created by a third party and is copied, reproduced, adapted, distributed or used by the University's staff or students (including use or reproduction via any IT system or network of the University) such use must be licensed by the owner and/or must otherwise be lawful.
- b) The University reserves the right to remove and to require any of the University's staff or students to remove material which risks Intellectual Property infringement proceedings or claim for breach of contract from all material used or disseminated and/or from the University's websites or from any IT system or network of the University and /or from personal websites.

- c) In the event of an allegation being made that the University is infringing the Intellectual Property of a third party the staff member or other person in receipt of notice of such allegation shall promptly inform the Pro-Vice Chancellor (Research) who shall investigate and determine the University's response.

22.6 Assignment of IP rights by the University

- a) The University may at any time assign and/or licence any of its IP rights to third parties e.g. (without limitation) sponsors of research and other collaborators in research projects, commercial or otherwise, employers of placement students, companies participating in Knowledge Transfer Partnerships, and companies contributing (whether financially or in kind) in respect of Masters and doctoral programmes including, without limitation, PhD, EngD and Masters (Res) programmes. Where the University awards to such parties any rights to or in its IP in circumstances where the contractual provisions may give rise to royalty payments being made by such person to the University, the University shall treat such embedded right to commercialise as a commercial exploitation arrangement (as described at 22.7 and 22.8 below) in respect of the distribution of residual income to the staff (and students subject to 22.3(b)) who have contributed to the IP the subject matter of the revenue stream to the University.
- b) If, in respect of particular IP, the University decides, after the University and the originators (whether staff or students subject to 22.3 (b)) have discussed and co-operated with a view to the commercialisation of such IP, that the University shall not proceed with activities, such as (without limitation) the support of any patent filing with a view to the commercial development and sale or licence of such IP, it may assign its rights in such IP to the originators thereof (being either members of staff and/or students subject to 22.3(b)).

The University may attach conditions to such assignment as it may at its sole discretion (but acting reasonably) determine which terms may include (without limitation):-

- i. a licence by the assignee(s) back to the University permitting the University to use the IP the subject matter of the assignment for academic and collaborative further research (including the right to sub-licence such right to the University's research collaborators) but for the avoidance of doubt not including the right on the part of the University and/or any of its collaborators to use such IP for or in connection with any commercial sale of goods or services.
- ii. provision for the recoupment by the University of disbursements (for example without limitation, patent filing and patent agents' fees) from the assignee(s) contingent upon the assignee(s) (or his/her/their successors in title) making commercial sales (whether of goods or of services) attributable to the assigned IP.

- iii. in the exceptional circumstances described at 22.6(b) provision for a revenue share to Bath upon commercialisation by the assignee of the assigned IP (or his/her successors in title).

For the avoidance of doubt it shall be open to the University, acting reasonably, to come to a decision that in view of its other strategic research interests in the field of the IP in question, the IP should not be assigned to any person including the originators but either released into the public domain (by way of patent abandonment or academic publication) or maintained by the University as confidential for a period of time with a view to furthering its strategic interests.

- c) In exceptional circumstances the University may consider the preferred method of exploitation of particular IP to be other than as described at 22.7(b) below. In such circumstances acting reasonably the University and the member of staff or student (subject to 22.3(b)) will co-operate with a view to entering into arrangements for the commercialisation of such IP by the originator(s) of the IP and/or their licensee(s) or assignee(s) subject to the reservation or licence to the University of such research rights as may be necessary for it to continue to pursue its research interests in the field of the IP in question. In such circumstances the University shall be entitled to a revenue share and prior to any assignment of the IP in question the University will negotiate with the academic originator(s) the revenue share to which it shall be entitled pursuant to 22.6(b).

22.7 Arrangements for Commercial Exploitation by the University

- a) Intellectual property may be commercially exploited in a number of ways, for example:
 - i. copyright arrangements e.g. publishing contracts
 - ii. patent licences
 - iii. software licences
 - iv. design rights
 - v. joint ventures
 - vi. spin-out companies
 - vii. embedded commercialisation rights of the University under a contractual entitlement e.g. (without limitation) Sponsored Research Agreements, Collaboration Agreements, KTP Agreements, arrangements with companies in respect of doctoral programmes of all types.
- b) Where staff and/or students report the existence of IP capable of exploitation by the University pursuant to 22.1 discussions shall be held between the staff and/or student originators and representatives of the University to determine the appropriate action to be taken with a view to exploitation of such IP.

This may include one or more of the following:-

- i. control over disclosure;
 - ii. the filing of a patent application with the researcher as named inventor;
 - iii. the identification of potential licensees;
 - iv. the formation of a company to exploit the technology.
- c) Once there is consensus as to the appropriate route forward or as to options in relation thereto, the proposed exploitation arrangement shall where appropriate be put forward for consideration by the University Ventures Board or such other decision making committee as may be nominated by the University from time to time where applicable.
- d) Where a staff member or student (who is subject to clause 22.3(b) of this Ordinance) has been specifically assigned duties in order to produce specific output including (without limitation) course materials or e-learning materials (including examination papers and assessment tools) for distance learning or virtual learning courses whether for third parties or for students of the University, s/he shall not have any entitlement to share in residual income of the University upon the commercialisation of such IP.

22.8 Distribution of Residual Income

- a) Residual income, whether in the form of periodic payments or a capital sum, will be calculated on the basis of gross income from an exploitation arrangement less those costs which are directly attributable to the exploitation. By way of example, such costs may include external legal technical and commercial advice, patent fees, expenses and any past or future commitment of internal resources specifically used for commercialisation of the IP. Such costs may also include the cost of any independent audit of deductible costs requested by the staff team.
- b) The distribution of total residual income to staff from a given piece of IP will be made in accordance with the following schedule:
- i. Where the technology is not protected by registered IP and the licence or assignment is simple to administer (e.g. a simple software licence, copyright licence or molecule licence), then the staff team will be allotted 90% of the residual income and the University will be allotted 10% of the residual income.
 - ii. Where the technology is either (aa) protected by registered IP; or (bb) has received proof of concept funding or other significant legal or technology transfer support, then the staff team will be allotted 70% of the residual income and the University will be allotted 30% of the residual income.
 - iii. Where the technology is (aa) protected by registered IP; and (bb) has received proof of concept funding; and (cc) has received significant legal or technology transfer support, then the staff team will be allotted 55% of the residual income and the University will be allotted 45% of the residual income.

The relevant percentages of residual income (as above) will be agreed prior to executing the relevant licence or assignment. In cases of dispute, the matter will be referred to such University committee (as may be approved by Council from time to time) whose terms of reference include its dealing with such disputes and, in the absence of any such approved committee, to the Vice-Chancellor and President, in each circumstance whose decision will be final.

Residual income allotted to the University will be split as described below:-

- 25% to University
- 25% to Faculty/School
- 50% to Crescent Seedcorn Fund (or any successor fund of the University)

For the avoidance of doubt, the % allocations of residual income of this Ordinance 22.8(b) will not apply to any distributions of residual income already made prior to 1 October 2020.

- c) (Arrangements for the distribution of residual income to members of the staff team and in accordance with (d) below any students subject to 22.3(b) of this Ordinance will be agreed at the outset of the exploitation arrangement on the following basis.

The staff team leader (the major contributor to the IP) notifies the Faculty Dean and the Head of Department in writing of which staff should be paid and in what proportions, with a justification in terms of contribution to the inventive step (in the case of patentable IP) and/or effort and/or ideas input to the IP the subject matter of the exploitation arrangements. The proposed distribution is at the discretion of the staff team leader but the members of the team are entitled to comment on it. In case of dispute, the Faculty Dean will take steps to resolve the matter; the recommendations of the team leader will be followed unless there is a clear case of injustice. Any proposed payment to a Faculty Dean should be authorised by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor. There will be one internal level of appeal against any decision taken under the procedure described in this paragraph.

- d) The scheme for the distribution of residual income derives from the right under general law of an employee to share in benefits linked to intellectual property. A student has no such automatic entitlement to a share of such income. The University will, however, take a sympathetic view of any proposal from a staff team leader or from an external sponsor to include a student subject to 22.3(b) of this Ordinance in the distribution of residual income. A student may also initiate such a proposal.
- e) (Staff who do not have academic contracts may be eligible to be included in the distribution of residual income provided that this does not conflict with their contract of employment or 22.7(d).

- f) Payments made by the University to staff and/or students may be subject to tax. The University reserves the right to deduct and account to HMRC in respect of basic rate tax and higher rate tax and any further withholdings and/or payments to HMRC and any other relevant taxation authority in respect of any tax and/or National Insurance Contributions. If National Insurance Contributions are required to be made the University shall be entitled to deduct both employer and employee contributions from any staff or student entitlements prior to payment.
- g) The University will make payment to staff or students on a quarterly basis when they have an entitlement under this Ordinance 22.8.
- h) A staff member or student's entitlement under this Ordinance 22.8 shall continue to be paid to him/her should he/she leave the University, and in the event of death, the entitlement shall continue for the benefit of his/her estate.
- i) The University will use reasonable endeavours to obtain and maintain contact details for students in respect of whom a notification of IP has been made and staff who have reported IP but who have left the University and for the estates of such persons who have died. If despite such endeavours contact is lost for six consecutive months, the University may send notice to the last known address that the IP originator's entitlement may be reallocated. If no contact details are received by the University within a month after such notice the University shall allocate the share to the other staff/students entitled to participate or if there are no other originator to the University's General Revenue Account.

22.9 Shareholdings

Where pursuant to 22.7(b) IP is licensed or assigned to a company formed to exploit the Intellectual Property in consideration of the allotment of shares to the University, then in lieu of any entitlement on the part of the staff and any students who have contributed to the creation of such IP to be distributed a share of residual income pursuant to 22.8 above, the staff/students contributing to the IP shall as part of the spin-out arrangements be entitled to subscribe at par value for shares in the spin out company. The proportion of shares to which the staff and student contributors to the IP the subject matter of the spin-out arrangements shall be entitled to subscribe shall be as described below:

- a) Where the technology being licensed or assigned into the company is not protected by registered IP and the licence or assignment is simple to administer (e.g. a simple software licence, copyright licence or molecule licence), then the proportion the staff/student contributors will be entitled to subscribe for shall be 90% of the pre-cash investment, the University holding the remaining 10% on account of any nominal cash investment (at par) and in consideration of the license and/or assignment of IP.
- b) Where the technology being licensed or assigned into the company is either (i) protected by registered IP; or (ii) has received proof of concept funding or other significant legal or technology transfer support, then the proportion the staff/student contributors will be entitled to subscribe for shall be 70% of the pre-cash investment, the University holding the remaining 30% on account of any nominal cash investment (at par) and in consideration of the license and/or assignment of IP.

- c) Where the technology being licensed or assigned into the company is (i) protected by registered IP; (ii) has received proof of concept funding, and (iii) has received significant legal or technology transfer support, then the proportion the staff/student contributors will be entitled to subscribe for shall be 55% of the pre-cash investment, the University holding the remaining 45% on account of any nominal cash investment (at par) and in consideration of the license and/or assignment of IP.

For each of (a) to (c) (inclusive) of this Ordinance 22.9, where a third party (e.g. a sponsor of research) has rights to such IP then shares will generally be allotted to such third party, which allotment shall be equally dilutive of the University and the staff/student IP contributors.

The relevant percentages of equity holding (as above) will be agreed prior to completing the spinning out of the company. In cases of dispute, the matter will be referred to such University committee (as may be approved by Council from time to time) whose terms of reference include its dealing with such disputes and, in the absence of any such approved committee, to the Vice-Chancellor and President, in each circumstance whose decision will be final.

For the avoidance of doubt, the % allocations of equity of this Ordinance 22.9 will not apply to any equity allocations already made prior to 1 October 2020.

Financial Regulation G 7.2 governs the holding of financial or other benefit in a commercial entity with which the University has a commercial relationship.

22.10 Reporting Procedures

The University's Research and Innovation Office will maintain a record of all arrangements for the exploitation of intellectual property where an invention disclosure has been made and shall keep a copy of any embedded commercialisation arrangements in research contracts (as described at 22.7(a) (vii)). The Finance Office will prepare an annual financial report for Council.
