

Multiversum

Decolonising For Social Change

Working Paper Series

DECKNO
Decolonising Knowledge
in teaching, research and practice

UNIVERSITY OF BATH

Working Paper Guidance for Authors

The DECKNO Working Paper Series is entitled Multiversum: Decolonising for Social Change Working Papers and is registered as ISSN 2753-684X.

Working papers should be submitted to any of the WP Series editors:

Ana Cecilia Dinerstein: A.C.Dinerstein@bath.ac.uk

María José Ventura Alfaro: mjva20@bath.ac.uk

Calum Wheeler cw2465@bath.ac.uk

All submissions will undergo light peer-review by one member of DECKNO and one external reviewer. Editors reserve the right of desk rejection. It is the responsibility of the DECKNO Research Hub co-ordinators to gather and assign peer reviewers to submissions for the Working Paper series and to communicate with the reviewers and the authors.

Once a paper is ready for publication the DECKNO coordinators may request administrative support in uploading the DECKNO Working Paper on to the assigned webpage on the DECKNO website.

WP copyright remains with the authors, who are free to use their work as they please (e.g., reprint it elsewhere). However, author must give appropriate credit to DECKNO and cite Multiversum Decolonising for Social Change Working Papers in any further exact or modified publication of the work.

Submission and Formatting Guidelines

Abstract and biographical note

Your submission should include an abstract, keywords and a biographical note. You may also include pictures or videos. The abstract should be no longer than 250 words. The biographical note can be up to 100 words. It should include personal and/or professional information about yourself and your email address.

Language: All submissions must be written in English and should not have been published, or submitted for publication, elsewhere. Translations of work published in languages other than English will be considered for publication.

Word count: Max. 8,000 words, excluding abstract, annexes and reference list. If you have a paper that is longer than 8,000 words please contact any of the editors.

Format: As a rule, keep your formatting simple. Please submit your work in a standard font (e.g., Times New Roman), 12pt, 1.5 spaced, with no special alignment or spacing, but single spaces (one line) between paragraphs. Please use a maximum of two levels of headings that are clearly distinguishable (i.e., first bold, or in colour, second italicised). You may use footnotes but try to keep these to a minimum. Emphasis in text should be italicized, not underlined.

Quotations: We use the Harvard referencing style. We use single ‘quotation marks’ only, with ‘the exception of “quotes” within quotes’, with punctuation marks ‘outside the quotation marks’, unless they are a part of it, followed by the reference, i.e.: (Author, year: page). Quotations that are longer than one sentence should be put into an indented block, without quotation marks and with a text size of 10pt. The quotation should end with a full stop before the reference.

References: Please check very carefully that your list of references at the end of the article corresponds to citations in the text. We would appreciate your care here as we spend a significant amount of time correcting reference lists. Please adapt these style guidelines:

Books

Bloch, E. (1959/1986) The Principle of Hope. Cambridge MA: MIT Press.

Journal articles

Menzio, F. (2021) ‘Marxism in Plural Times: Decolonizing Subsumption’, Rethinking Marxism, 33(1): 111-133.

Book chapters

Levitas, R. (1997). ‘Educated hope: Ernst Bloch on abstract and concrete utopia’, in J.O. Daniel and T. Moylan (eds.) Not Yet: Reconsidering Ernst Bloch. London - New York: Verso: 65–79.

Conference papers

Dinerstein, A.C. (2018) Notes for a Conversation on the Art of Organising Hope’, “opening keynote presented at the Summer School “The art of Organising Hope’, Centre for Rural Development Studies, Zautla, Puebla, Mexico, August 5-10.

Webpages and websites

BLOG ‘Rosa Luxemburg: revolutionary warned of environmental destruction and resurgent far right’, The Conversation, January 15 [<https://theconversation.com/rosa-luxemburg-revolutionary-warned-of-environmental-destruction-and-resurgent-far-right-109783>]

Newspaper articles

Roosevelt, S. (2015) ‘Who killed Roger?’, The Guardian, 9 October.